How to make a successful
Virtual Choir

Steps To Success

To make a successful AACC Virtual Choir there are a few simple steps that make the entire process go quicker and the final product the best possible:

1) We will provide you with a conductor video track (MP4) to sing with--Doug will be conducting to help shape the phrases, cues, and style. We are also providing the MP3 audio track to practice with in advance.

2) Coaching and practice for each singer to make sure they are singing their very best for the video--your must practice your part.

3) Please wear something dark (see Will's picture set-up to the right), preferably black. NO LOGOS.

4) You will need to have the video/audio track played into headphones from one device (usually a phone is best) and record the video with their computer or laptop (or vice versa).

5) It is important to make sure that the video is made in a quiet space. The click track should not be heard in the video (you must wear buds or headphones).

6) Each singer should practice making the video multiple times, so that they are aware of how their facial expressions effect their final video, and making sure they sing their best and the recording sounds good.

7) When the video is completed it will be collected and reviewed by myself and Richard Turek (our audio engineer).

Make sure the video is in landscape format and your face is centered and fills the screen.

Collecting and Organizing Videos

Richard Turek rjt1357@gmail.com will be collecting the videos and editing/processing all of the audio. Richard will send out details this week.

VIDEOS will need to be completed by Friday May 15 and submitted.
